Smart Food Express

This is an android application which is designed to order the food online while travelling by train. While travelling a long distance by train the main problem we face is food. To overcome such a problem, we want to develop a mobile application through which we are ordering the food online. If the person wants to order food, he/her can directly order the food so that the food is delivered directly to your seat and the cash-on-delivery process takes place between the customer and the person who delivers the food to us from the restaurant which we order
